Pictures! Pictures!!

I will probably be closed up in a short while, as my sky-light will be stopped up by the wall of the new building now being erected adjoining my gallery. I will then not be able to take pictures until I move into my quarters in the new building. I hope those who want pictures will call as early as possible, and let me serve them while I can. (Feb 20)

TRENTON, KY.

A Sketch of the Town and its Various Mercantile Interests.

The pleasant little town of Trenton, Ky., is located in Todd county, 16 miles from Nashville and 55 miles from Nashville, Tenn. It has a thrifty and industrious class of business men and a highly cultivated population numbering 500 souls. The town of Trenton was incorporated in the year 1810 and was at that time in Christian county, but Todd county was subsequently cut out of a portion of Christian and Trenton's history became identified with the new county. For two generations it was a quiet little country village, but when the Evansville, Henderson & Nashville railroad, now a division of the Louisville & Nashville lines, was built some sixteen years ago it passed through Trenton and the sleepy little village became a wide-awake town with progressive ideas and higher aspirations. It now has about a score of business houses and nowhere can be found a better class of merchants and tradesmen. They are clever, accommodating, courteous and polite, and as a natural result they, almost without an exception, do a prosperous and lucrative business.

THE CHURCHES.

There are in the town five churches. The white population owns and sustains three—the Baptist, Methodist and Christian, while the colored people have two—Baptist and Methodist. They all have good houses of worship and each denomination has a good congregation made up of the people in and adjacent to the town. Rev. Mr. Waddell is pastor of the Baptist church; Rev. Peyton Thomas of the Methodist and Rev. Mr. Lockett of the Christian. The Baptist denomination has a flourishing Sunday School which meets every Sabbath morning. The community, taken collectively, is moral, law-abiding and intelligent.

THE SCHOOLS.

The people take great pride in their schools. A number of years ago some of the enterprising citizens of Trenton and the vicinity formed a joint stock company and built an excellent brick house for school purposes. Very successful schools have been conducted in this building since its erection.

Two years ago the Legislature of the State conferred on the Institution a liberal college charter. The College is now and has been for nearly three years under the supervision of Prof. B. W. Vineyard. The college register shows an enrollment the present scholastic year of eighty pupils. The prospects of the school were never better. The facilities for acquiring a scientific, literary and classical education in Trenton are excellent. There are now 18 pupils from a distance in attendance.

Miss Lucy Arnold has been and is still teaching a private class of about 25 at her residence in the old Leavell mansion. This property is one of the oldest houses in the town and some of the finest carving and frescoing in southern Kentucky is to be found on the interior of this palatial old residence.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS, ETC.

There are two large and commodious halls for public entertainments. Trenton Hall, over the College building, has a stage, shifting scenery, etc., and accommodates traveling theatrical troupes. Dycus' Hall in Dycus' Block, on Main street, is used for balls, suppers, festivals, etc., for which it is well suited.

Mr. J. D. Rutherford's mammoth lumber dealing establishment is worthy of especial notice, as it is a leading industry.

There is also a large steam flouring mill owned by Dickinson & Bacon, which is one of the best in the county. A large tobacco warehouse owned and controlled by Col. Thos. L. Porter is an important feature of the town.

The post office is well kept by Esq. L. H. Arnold, who has for eight years been the magistrate and peace conservator of the town. In him the government and State both have a faithful and efficient servant. There are two daily mails on the railroad and also a daily mail to Elkton, the county seat, about eight miles distant.

PROFESSIONAL AND SOCIAL.

The town has five physicians and one dentist. Dr. John G. Chiles, the dentist, has had 20 years experience in his profession, and was a student under Noble Butler for 4 years, in Louisville. Dr. J. S. Dickinson, Dr. G. A. Harrell, Dr. R. R. Grady and Dr. A. J. Wilson are all old and well-established physicians, prominent in their profession. Dr. F. J. Runyon has just graduated from the medical department of the Louisville University and in a class of 84 was one of eight who won places upon the honor roll. He is just 21 years of age, bright, industrious, well educated and is destined to attain prominence in the profession that furnished to Kentucky the lamented Dr. Yandell, who was a member of the faculty of the Institution from which Dr. Runyon graduated but a few days ago, and who died suddenly shortly after he had delivered the farewell address to his pupils, being apparently in the enjoyment of perfect health.

The society of Trenton is equal to the best in the State. A large number of wealthy men live in the town and throughout the surrounding country and they represent the aristocracy and refinement of Southern Kentucky. The young gentlemen are "worthy sons of noble sires" and possess the truest and best instincts of a Kentucky gentleman—courage, courtesy and congeniality. The young ladies are as lovely, accomplished, cultured and bewitching as can be found anywhere. As a natural consequence society is unusually pleasant and gay in and about Trenton and the delightful balls given from time to time are a source of much enjoyment to the young people of adjoining towns.

Taken all in all, Trenton is one of the pleasantest little towns in Kentucky and few places in the State offer superior inducements to those in search of a desirable point to locate and invest capital.

COPIED COMMENTS.

NOTHING THE MATTER WITH THE BAIL. Samuel J. Thiden may be dead "from the eyes down," but this is a very small matter as long as he is alive from the hoofs in.—Philadelphia Press.

HE SHOULD HAVE BEEN ASHAMED TO TALK TO A LASS-BO.

A certain young dry goods clerk of this place asked a young lady, whose home is in Texas, if she could throw a lasso—and when she inquired why he asked, said: "I feel as though you had thrown one around my neck and were gradually drawing me to you."—"Go West young man."—Franklin Favorite.

AN OLD MAN'S JOKE.

Soon after the war, we heard a frost-headed citizen of Virginia say to a number of his neighbors, male and female, old and young, that for the first time in his life he had slept the night before with his cock. Astonishment was plainly visible on every face, and an old lady, after adjusting her "specs," said, "Why, Mr. Jones?" Mr. Jones' eyes twinkled and a smile played over his face as he said, "Well, Mrs. Smith, my wife is my cock now."—Princeton Banner.

A PARALYZING HEAD LINE.

The man who furnishes the head lines for the Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat will make a reputation if he will stick to the business. We picked up a copy of that paper Saturday last and there stood staring us in the face, in bold, black type, the blood curdling head-line announcing and ferociously hurling heat as hot as blades into innocent isolation. "We paused to take breath, and tremblingly read on, to learn that two tenement houses and a small stable or two had been burned, involving a loss, as stated by that paper, of $2,500 or $3,000. The "innocent isolation" was too much for us, and with a heavy heart we laid down the paper, and even the scissors seemed to feel bad about it.—Georgetown Times.

CASKY.

Dug Lander struck the town. Miss Belle Henry has returned from Haden'sville.

Miss Lizzie Means, of your city, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. S. Boales. Prof. Ingram, of Crofton, was in town last week.

Prof. Ogburn has been quite sick for the past week. A prominent gentleman of this place happened to a very painful accident last week; for further information apply to Judge Brasher.

Wint Henry had several sheep killed by dogs last week. At last accounts Wint was playing havoc with the pups.

Prof. A. C. Lee's school closed last week, and he has gone to Tennessee where he will reside in the future.

Col. Boyd was out looking for the boys last week. The Col. was a little late as the boys had just left for parts unknown.

Capt. Almy has sold his household furniture and will leave for your city in a few days.

A gentleman of our town has the Texas fever; he is under the treatment of a careful physician who prescribes sweet milk three times a day. But few of our farmers have burned plant beds. Consequently they are wearing long faces.

R. F. Rives has one hundred and fifty tons of baled hay which he will ship to Alabama.

CULBY.

TRENTON, KY.

Miss Ida Duerson is visiting relatives in Tennessee.

Miss Gatewood, of Earlinton, Ky. is visiting the family of Mr. C. B. Crutched.

Miss Nannie Byars spent Saturday and Sunday with her friend, Miss Annie Dickinson.

Mrs. J. F. Crunk visited friends and relatives in Springfield, Tenn., last week.

Misses Lydia Lockett and Ella Garth, after a protracted visit of two weeks to friends in Henderson, returned home Friday, much to the satisfaction of their many friends here.

In the absence of Miss Jennie Cabanis, Miss Nannie McGuire presided at the organ at the Baptist church Sunday.

Miss Annie Tandy, who is in attendance at school at Clarksville, Tenn., spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

After a severe spell of measles Miss Katie Wilson had so fully recovered as to be able to attend the "oyster supper" Friday night. The measles did no big thing after all as she is as pretty as ever.

Miss Nora Garth is visiting friends at Haden'sville, much to the displeasure of one of our enterprising grocery men.

Miss Mary Langford, who is in attendance at school here, visited her parents in Tenn., last week.

Miss Staple Gatewood came home Friday, much to the enjoyment of her many friends here, after a ten days' visit to the family of Col. John B. Atkinson, of Earlinton, Ky.

The oyster supper given by the ladies of the Methodist church last Friday night was well attended, and the tables fairly groaned with edibles of every description, served in the best style. The amusement of the evening was a game called "Snap," in which everybody, from the youngest to the oldest, took a hand. In a word the affair was indeed a pleasant one and all enjoyed themselves until 12 o'clock. The following ladies and gentlemen were in attendance:

LADIES.

Misses Sue Fuqua, Brenda Vineyard, Lydia Lockett, Annie Dickinson, Sue Waller, Annie Tandy, Katie Wilson, Mattie Wood, Ida Duerson, Lucy Duerson, Nannie McGuire, Mary Gaour, and Ella Garth.

GENTLEMEN.

Col. John H. Wood, Messrs. Jim Chesnut, Jim Center, Lee Gwynn, Cole Dickinson, John Dickinson, Sam Steger, Dr. F. J. Runyon, Messrs. George Randall, Virgil Nuckols, William Camp, A. N. Moore, Berg Moore, Lycurgus Arnold, Silas Bennett, Will Chiles, Henry Tandy, Will Dickinson, R. L. McGuire, Dave Hord, Henry Maynard, George Yost, Frank Hunter and C. C. Noble.

Yankee Robinson's show Thursday night was a success.

G. Cross Wood speaks of studying for the ministry.

Dr. F. J. Runyon has made quite a number of professional calls.

Jas. W. Chesnut and L. H. Arnold attended the show Thursday night.

If you wish a first-class meal, try Hord's Hotel. D. S. Hord is the "Boss."

Judge R. L. McGuire speaks of moving his headquarters to Adairville.

Little Jimmie Center "took in" the sights at the oyster supper Friday night.

W. L. Garth, of Bolivar county, Miss., is visiting friends and relatives.

Col. C. G. McChesney, of McLehannan fame, handles the Queen City sewing machine.

Henry W. Chiles better known as Uncle Dick, is a candidate for matrimony and is canvassing southern Christian county closely.

Henry P. Tandy, of Colfax Co., New Mexico, proprietor of the "Ky" brand of cattle, is visiting his friend John H. Wood.

Mr. J. F. Crunk the efficient Railroad and Express Agent at this point is one of the best employees of the L. & N. Co., on the line.

Jas. G. Center, John H. Wood and J. D. Rutherford visited on last Sunday Mr. Buddie Byars and we are sorry to learn that Buddie's health is not improving. John Wood has been detailed to make him another visit Sunday.

Mr. Geo. W. Gibson, representing the well-known clothing establishment of Jas. Pye & Co., was circulating among his friends Saturday taking orders for spring clothing. George is a good fellow, and well merits the numerous orders he received from the young men of this vicinity.

Messrs. W. L. Garth, Cole Dickinson, John W. Tait, Frank B. Hunter, Will W. Beeler, John H. Wood, Will J. Chiles, Dr. S. G. Smith, Henry W. Chiles, Prof. Dave S. Hord, George F. Wilson, and Charlie S. Seebree attended the "Yankee Robinson Show" at Pembroke last Wednesday night. After the performance a banquet was given Mr. Robinson at the Miller House. For further information, call on or address Col. F. B. Richardson or Dr. M. G. Miller, Pembroke, Ky.

Mr. A. J. Center, of Fort Worth Texas, is visiting friends and relatives here, but expects only to remain a few days, as he leaves for New York to purchase his spring stock of clothing for his mammoth store house in Fort Worth.

There seems to be attractions here for him, as he seems to stay Byars very closely.

The citizens have reason to congratulate themselves on the business outlook for the spring trade. We trust their most sanguine hopes may be fully realized.

Mr. Douglas Lander, of Viole, Laey & Co., the popular Evansville hat house, was in the city last week. Save your orders for "Dug," he is a No. 1 fellow.

L. E. Shannon, of Louisville, was in the city Wednesday and Thursday having in his company his little son Chris not four years of age. Chris took in the town, soliciting orders for his father's house, J. B. Wilder & Co.

Capt. Boyd Gough, and old river man 86 years old, dropped dead at Newport.
